

Planner and Faculty Disclosures

Disclosure/Conflict of Interest Statement

As a provider jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), ACCF must ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all of its directly provided or jointly provided/co-provided educational activities. Planners, presenters, and other contributors in a position to control the Content included in the Product are required to disclose to ACCF all relevant financial or other material relationships or interests he/she and/or his/her spouse or domestic partner may have, occurring within the past twelve (12) months, with any entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients. When an unlabeled use of a commercial product or an investigational use not yet approved for any purpose is discussed during an educational activity, ACCF requires the inclusion of a disclosure statement that the product is not labeled for the use under discussion or that the product is still investigational.

ACCF is committed to providing its learners with high-quality activities and materials that promote improvements and quality in health care, rather than a specific proprietary business or commercial interest. The intent of ACCF's required disclosure is not to prevent participation in certified educational activities by persons with a financial or other material relationship with entities producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services consumed by, or used on, patients, but rather to provide learners with information on which they can make their own determination whether financial interests or material relationships may influence the certified activity.

ACCF assesses potential conflicts of interest disclosed by its faculty, contributors, planners, managers, staff and other individuals who are in a position to control the content of certified activities. All relevant potential conflicts of interest that are identified are thoroughly vetted through a process conducted by activity course directors, ACCF education staff, and members of the Accreditation Compliance Workgroup ("ACWG") and that includes appropriate peer review for fair balance, scientific objectivity and validity, and patient care and safety recommendations.

ACCF staff and ACWG members involved with this activity have nothing to disclose.

Please note: The certified content contained in this activity was recorded in 2019; therefore, the disclosure slides included in the presentations may differ from the current disclosures listed in this document.
