  - Use a comma before “and” in a series.
  - Use quotation marks in a title.
- DO:

Task 1: Challenging Clinical Case

Clinical Implications:
- In a couple of sentences, state the main clinical implications (or significance) of your study.
- This information may be used as discussion points in educational activities.
- If your case is accepted, the clinical implications will not be included in meeting materials as part of your case. However, case reviewers will see it during the review process.
- This section does not count as part of the 1,900-character limit.

Presenting Author:
- Please enter the name and email address of the author that would be presenting the case, if accepted.

Body/Text:
- Cases MUST conform to specific size limits, or they will remain in an incomplete status and will not be reviewed.
- Your case may not contain more than 1,900 characters, not including spaces.
- You may type the body of the case directly into the space provided for the case body. Upload graphics or images separately (next task). If you paste text from another document (like a Word document), please paste as plain text.
- Do NOT place hard returns at the end of each line.
- You may use five unique abbreviations in the body of the case. Spell out the complete phrase followed by the abbreviation in parentheses the first time the abbreviation is used. Only commonly known abbreviations are allowed in the title of the case.
- Do not include the title in the case body. The title will be collected in the Title task.
- Do not include authors and institutions in the case body. This data will be collected in the Author task.
- The case must be presented in the following sequence, using the headings listed:
  - Background: In an initial paragraph, provide relevant information regarding the background and purpose of the study, preferably in no more than one or two sentences.
  - Methods: Briefly state the methods used.
  - Results: Summarize the results in sufficient detail to support the conclusions.
  - Conclusion: State the conclusions reached. It is not satisfactory to state “the results will be discussed.”
- Please proofread carefully for factual, spelling, and size errors. If accepted, the case will be printed in meeting materials exactly as it appears on the online submission system confirmation page.

Adding An Image to Your Submission (Task 2):
- On the Case tab, you can upload a picture, table and/or graph as an image.
- Each image must be saved as file type of “gif” or “jpeg.” Even though the case system may allow you to upload a graphic with a different file type those graphics will not be reviewed or reproduced if the case is selected.
- You are limited to uploading one image per submission.
- Please keep in mind that large and/or complex graphics may not be readable in print or electronic formats.
Task 3: Authors

Please select your co-authors for this submission. An individual who helped you work on the case or someone that you would like to recognize in creation of the submission may be included as a co-author.

- The author order is the order that authors will be listed in meeting materials if the case is selected for presentation.
- You are required to list your co-author’s first name, last name, and email address.
- Use the arrows along the side to switch the order of authors.
- Up to 25 authors can be listed as part of an author block, including the submitter and the group name of an investigating team.

Task 4: Institution Information

- Up to two institutions will be included in your submission. These institutions are entered into the portal using the Institution Information task.
- Spell out the full name of the institution.
- Do not include department and/or division names.

Task 5: Attestations

- Read all of the attestations and sign at the bottom.
- Select “Submit Agreement.”

Review My Work/When Is A Submission Considered Complete?

- A submission is complete and ready for submission when, in the Home section, you see the words “Status: Complete” under the title of your case.
- It is only submitted to reviewers after the deadline date. You may update or make changes to your case up until 11:59:00 Eastern European Summer Time (EEST) on Tuesday, 9 July 2024.
- The date your submission was last edited is next to the status underneath the title of the case on your homepage. This will change each time there has been an alteration.
