New this year! The Hani Najm Global Scholar Award was established to provide early career cardiologists in the Middle East and North Africa regions with the opportunity to participate in a 4-week Observership Program in the United States!

Two selected awardees will shadow practicing cardiologists and health professionals at a US hospital, watch procedures and surgeries first-hand, and attend patient rounds and teaching conferences.

The 4-week program will take place March to April 2022. Following the program, awardees will be able to attend and participate in the ACC Annual Scientific Session in Washington, DC. The ACC will cover flights, lodging, and registrations fees, as well as provide a stipend during the 4-week program.

To learn more about the program and apply, visit ACC.org/HaniNajm. Applications are due September 20, 2021.
