ENGAGE SECTION OF VIRTUAL EXPERIENCE WEBSITE

The ACC.20/WCC Virtual experience website will have a tab labeled “Engage” that provides links to and feeds of relevant ways to connect and engage with the virtual “meeting.” There, you will find an #ACC20 Twitter feed, along with two new sections dedicated to the momentous occasion of Convocation:

Share Your Moment Taking the ACC Oath

New FACCs and AACCs are encouraged to post their photos and sentiments around taking the ACC oath throughout the meeting, in lieu of the physical on-site Convocation experience. Share photos and use the hashtag #ITookTheACCOath.

Tweet Your Congratulations!

Family, friends, colleagues, peers – send your new FACC/AACCs congratulations for achieving their new credential on social media and be sure to tag your post with #TheFaceOfCardiology to highlight the diversity and breadth of ACC’s next generation of leaders.

OFFICIAL ACC HASHTAGS, SOCIAL MEDIA POLICY AND DISCLAIMER

The ACC's Hashtag Reference Guide also outlines hashtags and definitions for more than 100 cardiology and ACC-related terms. The online version can be found here.

The official ACC social media policy is available online as well. The College strongly encourages anyone using social media to include a disclaimer in their profiles. Examples of this include, but are not limited to, "opinions are my own," "RT do not equal endorsements," etc.

ACC's social media disclaimer is listed below:

The American College of Cardiology and the American College of Cardiology Foundation (collectively, the "College") welcome discussions related to all aspects of cardiology on our social media sites. The College does not allow the posting of any sensitive information relating to the practice of medicine or any information that directly or indirectly could identify a patient or consumer of health care, as it is in violation of our policy. The College reserves the right to remove any posts from its platforms that are in violation of our policies and that are deemed offensive. Promotion of drugs, devices and other medical technologies will not be tolerated, and any comments, discussions or links involving promotional material will be removed. Repeated attempts to post promotional content will result in the individual being blocked and/or reported. Statements or opinions expressed on the page reflect the views of the contributor, and do not reflect the official views of the College, unless otherwise noted. The College cannot respond to every comment. Likes and follows on social media channels are not endorsements. The College assumes no liability for sensitive information posted by users.
